清國三尺胡瓜

CUCUMBER--CHINA

A most remarkable new long green cucumber from China. The mature fruit is almost 20 inches or over, and 2 to 3 inches in diameter, of deep green. The flesh is solid, crisp and of fine flavor. Vines are strong, vigorous and productive. The fruit is fit for use almost as early as the shorter varieties. We recommend this variety to everyone. Pkt., 10c; oz., 40c.

CABBAGE---NEW PE-TSAI

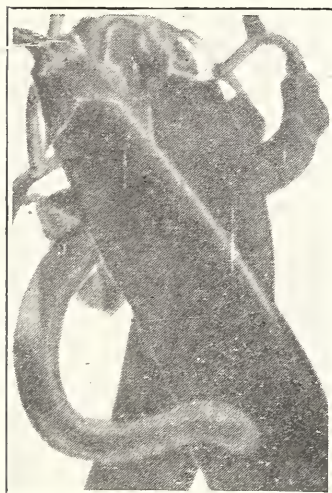

Big, compact, tender and crisp, an excellent PE-TSAI. The best firm-heading PE-TSAI to grow. Will not scald or burn and will make a head when other varieties fail. The head is tightly compacted. It will produce a head of 15 pounds and will stand long before belting to seed. It is excellent in quality, crisp, tender and brittle, with a fine celery flavor. We recommend it either for the market gardener, trucker or private planter, as it is a perfect CHINESE PE-TSAI CABBAGE in every respect, not only of the largest size but of handsome color and of the finest quality. It is probably the safest variety for an amateur to plant as it does well at all seasons and one is almost sure of getting a crop. Pkt., 10c; 1/2 oz., 35c.

EGG PLANT--CHINESE WONDER

Treat like a tender tomato but requires even a longer period to mature. After early cabbage plants are out of the hot-bed or green house, sow eggplant, keeping the temperature above seventy degrees. One ounce of seed gives two thousand plants and four ounces plants an acre. Transplanted later to pots or to a three or four-inch stand, and when 8 inches high, put outside on rich, well-drained land. These Japanese varieties grow on small bushes and they may be planted much closer than the American sort.

The fruit is oblong, attaining a length of 15 to 25 inches, with beautiful purplish-pink color. The skin is very thin and flesh is tender with very few seeds. Plants are hardy and prolific. Is excellent for pickles, fried or stewed. Easy to grow. Pkt., 10c; 1/2 oz., 50c.

PEPPER GREEN

(PERILLA NANKINENSIS)

Use the leaves as peppers after mincing fine. It will add more delicate and appetizing flavor to all dishes. A few plants in the garden will be sufficient for a family. Sow in spring. Pkt., 10c; 1/2 oz., 30c.

RADISH--MIYASHIGE

Grow more than two feet long and over 3 inches in diameter. Are very richly formed; solid and fine sugary flavor. Skin is a beautiful white and green in top. Keeps well, firm and crisp for a long time. We recommend our selection of this as being an extra good cooking radish. In Japan it is generally cut into small pieces and dried in the sun and will keep for a long time. Grows easily everywhere. For main crop sow according to the following schedule: San Francisco and vicinity, early August; Southern states, late August; Northern states, in early July. Pkt., 10c; 1/2 oz., 25c.

TOKINASHI, OR ALL-SEASON

The best known and most popular all-season radish. Color; beautiful white, flesh brittle and firm, pungent with fine flavor. This strain will stand heat without becoming pithy. Excellent, good for cooking, or raw, and may be eaten from the time it is half an inch through until it measures 15 inches long and 2 inches in diameter, its full size. It is just right in every respect. Pkt., 10c; 1/2 oz., 25c.

SMITH-DE WITT SEED CO., Inc., H. C. Smith, President.

A detailed black and white illustration of a plant, likely a species of grass or reed. The plant features a dense, rounded base composed of many small, overlapping, scale-like structures. From this base, numerous long, narrow, upright leaves emerge, some showing distinct longitudinal ridges and grooves. The leaves are arranged in a somewhat fan-like pattern, with some curving slightly. The entire plant is shown against a plain background, with a horizontal line indicating the ground level.

The flavor resembles the Almond. The meat is snow white covered with a thin shell or skin of brown color which is easily removed. It is very easy to grow and a single nut will yield from 200 to 300 nuts in a hill. The illustration gives a good idea of a hill growing which shows the nuts are produced close to the surface and the foliage is of a handsome green color resembling wide blades of grass. It will do well in any kind of soil.

The nuts should be planted in the Spring about the same time as corn and potatoes, and by Fall they will be matured and ready to harvest. They are then dug, spread out to dry and afterwards put away for use at any time. Pkt. 6c; 3 pkts. 15c; 1/4 lb. 25c, prepaid.

Can be successfully grown where corn succeeds. This variety is prolific, every part is useful; vines valuable feed for horses, cattle and sheep; producing one to two tons of vines per acre, while the nuts contain a large per cent of rich nourishment. They do best on light sandy soil, but will produce a good crop on any open soil when it is plowed deep and carefully tilled. Pkt., 6c; $\frac{1}{2}$ lb., 28c; lb., 50c, postpaid.

Smith's Imperial White Bean

The Bountiful Bush Bean—We believe that it is a distinct improvement in green beans and will become exceedingly popular wherever grown. It is a prolific and continuous bearer, absolutely stringless, very tender and of excellent flavor. The plant is very handsome, thrifty in growth, being practically rust and mildew proof. It is extremely early, being the first in spring, and it is the last to yield edible pods in the fall from mid-summer's sown seeds, which have produced plants that are still in pod and blossom. One of the grand points of this new bush bean is in the rich green pods, which are of an enormous size, broad, thick, very long, uniform in shape, meaty and of high quality, absolutely stringless and free from any tough lining, not only when young, but this tender quality is retained to maturity. Per pkt., 6c; 3 pkts, 15c; ¼ lb., 15c; ½ lb., 25c; 1 lb., 45c; postpaid.

TOMATOES—Continued

Smith's Early July Tomato

Acknowledged to be one of the very best extra early Tomatoes in cultivation. They are always perfectly smooth, good size, and very handsome, the color being a bright red (see colored cut on front cover). They grow in large clusters, which begin to ripen from July and continue until killed by the frost. On account of its ripening so early in July this variety was called Early July. THE ORIGINAL SOIL INOCULATOR

Selected from our 1923 Bumper Crop

Those who prefer a white oat for spring seeding will make no mistake in sowing Swedish Select. Perhaps the best description of this variety would be to say that it is an improved strain of many of the Northern Oats. Lb., 35c, postpaid.
